C. C. Calvert's Phenyline & Terebinene Sheep Salve

The great reputation these specifics have enjoyed in England on account of their extraordinary success in all cases where they have been applied, has induced the proprietor to introduce them in this market on account of the immense sheep farming interest of the country. NEW CITIZEN LAW.

PROTEST OF ENGLAND & FRANCE

"Credit difficulties," as logicians say.

Notwithstanding all the assurances of our learned friends that the point was finally settled, making the children of foreign residents Argentine citizens, we are happy to say that so undesirable an issue is as distant as ever. English law clearly allows the son of a British subject, born no matter why nor to claim its protection, saying like St. Paul "Civis Britannico sum." It is idle for Buenos Ayrean legislators to assert they can make laws for foreign subjects, by virtue of local sovereignty. As well might they attempt to expel us from the country, at their pleasure as our right of residence. It rest merely of inference on their part, but guaranteed by a treaty conferring mutual advantages and involving mutual obligations on the contracting parties England and La Plata. For instance if an illiberal administration, out of zeal for the national religion, attempted to close the Protestant churches or the city, they might, like Dr. Elizalde, advance the Mexican plea, of doing as they liked, but International law would vindicate the wrong, and the itself far superior to this boasted sovereignty of republican, great or small.

To show the inconsistency of this principle in allowing the citizen own nation, and Argentine citizens nation to send themselves in each Consulate of Paris, London or Genoa, as Argentine citizens. At the same time it denies this right accorded by Anglo parentage, in Buenos Ayres. No doubt the latest way would to t leave the children of foreign residents, in either country, the option to preserve their blood-nationality or chosen for the State in which they have been accidentally born. This is the system in England, witness Count Montalembert and numberless other French exiles born in London, who have preserved their paternal attachment, and sit in the French Senate. We only ask the same here, for by taking away the penal character of Argentine nationality, many sons of foreigners will show it with money, and voluntarily avail themselves of it, only how to proceed we do not anticipate, or desire, a declaration of war, for we are at present with the British Government. But the policy fulfilled is not worth so sore a separation, and we must point by other, eventuality our views with a protest. But like the editor of Nation, the fellow will impede La Plata of thousands of useful English settlers, who will prefer the Australian or American colonies where military service is unknown. This is the great and, we believe, only one for we do not even fear the Emperor Napoleon's designs of the Emperor III or make a project of this history to own, but this "plans" of annexation are pure illusion.

The French minister under date 18th last. sends a despatch to the Secretary for Foreign Affairs, protesting against the projected law in as much as it alters the status of Dec. 9th, 1857, which left the children of foreigners option in matter of nationality. He states that the French law does not admit their forfeiture on to moment, and as His Imperial Majesty's subjects succeeded in a matter of such common interest, he reserves to rights of his countrymen.

Dr Elizalde in a rather curt reply invokes Argentine sovereignty, which means, in plain English, that a law can do as he likes in his own house.

The following correspondence, touching British subjects, we give in full.

English Minister's Protest.
British Legation B. Ayres,
Aug. 21, 1863.

"The undersigned, Charge d'affaires of H. B. M. has read the projected law published in the papers of the city, and presented for sanction of Congress relative to the nationality of the children of foreigners, born in the Republic. Whatever right the country may have, to legislate for its own interests, such right cannot have a retrospective force, infringing on the privileges previously guaranteed to foreigners, by law.

In consequence hereof, the undersigned protests in the name of his Government, against all attempts to prevent the projected law with a retroactive power as regards British subjects, and begs to refer to the Argentine Government, whatever privileges have been heretofore conceded in favor of foreigners and their children, by virtue of the law of the Republic sanctioned by Congress, Sept. 29th 1857, under faith and guarantee whereof British subjects have been induced to remain and settle in this country. With assurances &c.

W. DORIA.

Foreign Secretary's reply.

Her Britanic Majesty's Government has solemnly, and necessarily, recognised the right of the Argentine Republic, in exercise of its sovereignty, relative to judging of the facts which fit, in matter of citizenship. Hence, Sir R. Pool, on the part of H. B. M. Government at Montevid in Pratt mont. April 1st, 1858, "right no foreign could be denied the right to all subjects born in its territory; that according to a principle of English law every person born in any part of the British dominions, is a natural and must vessel that the Charlo has British subject—that the son of no Englishwoman, born at Buenos Ayres, is a British subject, and that therefore no reason to consider him as being subjected to Buenos Ayrean laws."

In sight of this declaration of your former despatches and subsequent acts of the British Government, it is difficult to understand your Excellency's protest of the 21st inst.

The Argentine Government regards it will not void, not comprehending, by what plea a British representative, can protest against the just exercise by English legislation not to the solemn acts of that Government, unless it be pretended to infringe on republics sovereignty, which would be a gratuitous declaration of respect for our independence.

For these weighty reasons, the President has directed the pres ent to be communicated to you, as also that the Argentine Government does not admit the principle that the laws of the respective powers of republics, could be to be common a portion of the sovereignty, which no foreign power has a right to demand. Neither does the Government admit, that foreigners pretends to compl him of to the existing laws under all persons born here, domiciled, or British subjects have excluded here on this understanding.

Although in 1857 the law you refer to was passed, this was an act of legislation, and not a treaty of limitation, which she resisted by armed force; but it was by mutual in the convention of peace, submitting this province with its act of its Republic, and the vote a natural citizenship, which will ever hold to the Republic, because on it is legal and equitable of the constitution.

The laws of 1857 never was a Nations law; it never had votes in the provinces of Buenos Ayres and was never practically called by the reformed constitution.

But even in the provinces, where been exemption in favour of English, against no such law has been established, no exception can now be taken. It any negligence consider himself oppressed or think upon, he is free to leave the country, but he can never pretend to forbid the right of a law, as this would amount to our handing our sovereignty, and the sole of legislating to his particular fancy.

Accept compliments, &c.

RUFINO ELIZALDE.

S. JUAN MINING CO.

Major Rickard will probably arrive to day or to morrow in the Saladillo with his lady fair, besides the luminous act of the London, he thought it no use to stand, and has organised the spirited and accomplished nucleus of our Commercial Mr. B. Simpson, Esq., as our official editor of the "Times." We offer him our most sincere congratulations, and to Mrs. Rickard a cordial welcome.

All the machinery and staff for the San Juan Mines come in the "Scout" from Liverpool, which sailed July 7th. The latter is composed of highly intelligent men, hired at very high wages, including a chymist, essayer, and several mechanics and miners. Some of the machinery was found so heavy and unwieldy that he judged it impossible to transport the same on mule-back across mountainous defiles, and hence it was necessary to reduce them in smaller pieces. Our distinguished and talented countryman was well received in London, and paid a brief visit to his native city, Dublin; but press of business and time prevented him from carrying out Dr. Bowman's project of furnishing 100 Irishmen to form an agricultural colony at San Juan. Some young men of family, not (what is better) capital, accompany him, with the object of settling down in this country where Major Rickard has every possible and deservedly advanced himself, enabling the honest Hon Tantal to to be honourably called "An Irishman of Buenos Ayres." Major Rickard married will be good news for S. Juan, and will probably drive the Mining Company shares above par, for he will not only be expected in a fortnight, we shall have the pleasure of seeing the Inspector, his staff, and machinery, all on the road by 5th of next month. Does noble have coin in it?

LATEST FROM THE PROVINCES.

ARRIVAL OF THE ESMERALDA.

The Esmeralda arrived late, owing to having got aground at the Boca del Cayman. In the "Ferro-carril" of the Sud met with a vessel that the Charlo has British subject—that the son of no public mule his appearance at a place Englishwoman, born at Buenos called the Aguada, in Rioja, at the head Ayres, is a British subject, and that of 60 men, and had taken some out-

The Government had sent out troops to meet him, several of the Montoneros had been captured, and immediately executed; amongst them were Luis Villafañe, Nieto, and Romero.

The Governor of Rioja had marched out to meet the Chuncho, and appointed Don Natal Luna to act in his place.

In Catamarca the only topic was the election of Governor.

From Santiago we learn that public attention is engrossed with the candidature of the Rio Dulce. Gen. Hilario Ibarra has left the city to take possession of his estancia, and the Government will assist the enterprise.

In San Juan things are beginning to look rather rapidly. A group of noblemen and capitalists have formed a joint-stock association to work the mines, and intend erecting smelting machinery immediately by their own on and then Mendoza will be doing some. Also there is a rumour that an immense deposit of coal has been discovered.

INVASION OF SAN LUIS.

The unfortunate province has been invaded by the Indians and rebels, both on the north and south, simultaneously. At the time of writing we have not the present we are going to meet the Indians at the Buenaventa Cossacks, forty leagues south of the capital, the rebels at Morlo, about the same distance to the north. Some three other set departments and collect and such a the whole country around.

Tamaro, Balgorria, and Sandes were immediately notified of this new invasion, and it is said they are marching upon Morlo.

Mendoza is no longer in a state of siege. Sandes arrived in Mendoza on the 19th, and on the 20th, &c.

The political state of the province is gloomy in the extreme. Two officers of soldiers of the National and Provincial Governments are running about every day, and we meet them in the streets, in uniforms, and salt officers, so that they are put down in only place any appear in mufti. Our worst fears are not proving true—not a province in the Argentine Republic that has not its Flores. All hope that a reaction in a military sense will take place, have never existed to upset and Quinteros to escape. There is no organised force that can be called upon to put down the rebels. Mitre would not move a single battalion, well knowing on these occasions, and manner and willingly to their hearts. Obedience to the Government is not to be thought of for a single moment, and if necessary entrust the Federal Army is not going the right way to work, as previous to the battle of Cepeda—thousands of poor unfortunate conscripts, who had been forcibly engaged and import 270 bags of cotton seed, gins, and presses, as contributed them amongst his people.

FIFTEEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE KEPLER.

Yesterday the Saltu came in from Montevideo, bringing news of the arrival of the Kepler in Montevideo As a matter of course, the Saltu would not wait half an hour to bring up the news, but should at once leave for Buenos Ayres. It would seem as if the captains of these steamboats think it their express duty to inconvenience, as far as possible, the public. We call attention to this matter in order that it may not be repeated. The Saltu arrived in Buenos Ayres at five o'clock this morning, and had to wait two hours for the port officer. Now had she waited these two hours in Montevideo, she would have arrived at seven o'clock, which is early enough for any of these river boats.

The news by the Kepler, on current produce, is rather unfavorable. Hides are down, and wool not over firm.

In the United States the Northerner have been rather successful. They have at last taken Vicksburg, and have driven back General Lee from Mary land. In New York every one talks of peace, as any one, or at any accident.

The Kepler is expected up to-day.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Yesterday's packet took only 4 passengers for Europe, but the mail-bags were very heavy, including over 2000 copies of the "Standard" and about 1200 native papers; also several money-orders from Irish residents to their friends at home.

Sir Rams is in high spirits about his Saladillo enterprise, having found him waiting everywhere, plenty of water, no local obstacles, and great sympathy from the Governors and people of the upper provinces. His negotiations are ended over several thousand miles, during which he did not meet my Indians. Governor Taboada offered him as many as 3000 laborers for the work, at 2 reals per diem. The explorer looks much younger and older, since his journey of 3 to days.

The Northern railway experienced a contre-temps, last Sunday, one of the engines getting out of order at Los Olivos. A courier was at once despatched on horseback, for another locomotive, which rescued the passengers from lybernating one night at Pueblo Matre. We understand not the least apprehension is entertained of Santa Rosa, the line being now sense ordered and stirred so as to prevent a recurrence of the damage of 1861 which inundated Puerta Gonzalez.

Mr. Ogden's ball Patria gives a grand "certulia" on Saturday night, in honor of the patroness of South America. Of course the President, Governor, Minister, and a host of fair damsels and fascinating youths will be present.

One of our subscribers in the country, and a man of some standing and weight, to which about 100 persons were invited. The company comprised some not native nobilitaires, and a large proportion of the ladies present, we have seldom passed a pleasanter evening.

The engines for the projected Cosmopolitan railway left town yesterday en route for San José, as they will commence operations by part a visit to the Capitals General in his hospitable country house.

The French packet is expected today with dates from Europe to July 28th. The 4th of August, the open the Parliament and Palais line of steamers, universal demand on the 1st inst., making the voyage in 25 days; shall consequently a more fine, and lasting 8 days later than the "Saltu tongue."

The Kepler, it at Montevideo, she brings only half a mail, as between 200 and from Rio Janeiro. The French Packet has arrived in the latter of June, with news of the fall of Vicksburg.

The Flanco calling has fixed 4918 as the rate at exchanges in the Commons dull as to mail from the last to the Continent. It is probable the ship will not under that mark in sufficient.

Consul Hutchinson and lady return by yesterday, to Rosario. They seem quite pleased with their visit to Buenos Ayres, and can regret their stay was so short.

The last number of the "Esther" will be sold to-day for amount of all who it will whom it in my concern. Purchasers buy here as she lies.

The Money, which will have the making for Montevideo, will be quite ephemeral until for the Money.

The proposed Welch railway was the subject of debate in Congress. The Prime Minister, with Mr Bonbennett, Vidalota and Vega supported the cousin. MM. Pitte, Alsina, Martinez, Navarro, Rios, Gonzalez, and Pelleyra opposed. On being put to the vote it was thrown out as dangerous to the Republic

LETTER FROM AN AMERICAN CORPORTENO.

Washington Navy Yard, Saturday, April 25, 1863.

My dear Dan,

We have just this moment arrived here from Charleston with despatches also have on board the captain of the Keokuk and 1st Lieutenant wounded.

My God, Dan, we have witnessed the most horrible fight the world ever knew. On the 7th we attacked Charleston. Our iron clads walked up to the cannons' mouth and there for three hours received from Forts Sumpter, Moultrie, Cumming's Point Battery, Fort Beauregard, and Fort Bee, a perfect storm of shot, shell, balls and every imaginable kind of projectile, which howled and screeched through the air as though hell itself had broken loose.

Sumpter fired by broadsides, not one of our ves sels but that received from 60 to 100 shots. The fire was so incessant we could not open the ports to live. The ironsides only fired one broadside, but it was a broadside in every direction, and aside at her assailers. Wednesday morning my old chum mate, Worden, who behaved so well at Sharpening Inlet, was by her, commanding the after gun. A steel-pointed shell pierced her armor and, without exploded, something about men. Poor Mitchell was torn to pieces almost, by the fragments of the shell, he was doing very well, it is assured that the ship was sinking when he was taken with counter, and seemed to give up, a most remarkable. I have not time now to write to you at length, and as soon as I can get my brother's row always so hard to manage, and either not to my. The Keokuk was struck about three times, and was so riddled with shot that she began to sink and leak very fast, and was ordered to withdraw. This was done so quickly, that nothing was saved from her. We barely had time to take off the officers and crew just as she was going down.

Five of our monitors are reported to be what extent I cannot say. But as usual, I believe, mentioned two attacks all on the action will appear from the Navy Department.

I fear we cannot take Charle ton for some time to come. It has now taken going for us now vessels. Every ship we have is wooden ships, and our three miles off, waiting as a reserve for the order to close on Sumpter. The order will be issued. I felt ashamed to be ordered, ship would live there two minutes enough we have been exposed to, and can only account for what has occurred by the spinning of shot and shell only one hill on the spot.

Yours truly,

VILLA MERCEDES.

The murderer of Kirby and his poor little girl is in custody, and the people is collecting all the evidence he can get before sending the prisoner to town. We hear a very good character of the criminal judge in Mercedes. Some of our subscribers say that there could not be a more upright judge.

Our Mercedes correspondent stated "Veritas" is not veritable, and readers would place no faith in his statements.

Mercedes has a theatre which is doing well; business in the town is dull, the camps want rain, but the crops are still in good condition. The mutual collected for the quakes who caught Kirby's murderer, is 6, 0, 0 dollars. Two of the murderer's companions supplies all the country round with biscuits and flour. The Sweets very low, and in many parts the grain rots. Corporal Sosa, and Sergeant Ortiz, have been made at 6th. The flu by have increased pretty well this year, and if the rain comes soon farmers will have no reason to complain of 1863.

THE OLDE CLUB.

To the Editor of the "Standard."

Gentlemen,

In your report of the meeting of a the tribune to the British Library, the conduct of the Glee Club appears to me to have been a little unfair. I would not like to call it a conspiracy, but I think that the quiet way in which the matter was carried out seems to me to have been premeditated.

It is as well to state that the Olde Club is an association of private gentlemen, who meet periodically at the house of a friend and member, who for the above have, in common with their private gentlemen, the right to say what shall or shall not be from Tuesday

Nevertheless by one of their by-laws, members are allowed to bring friends on any of their nights of practice; and, although the original objects of the association were the study and practice of music, with a view to the improvement of those themselves, they still take pleasure in a quarter part of their attention to the entertainment of their friends in general, as instance given at the Club's expense.

The Library certainly has no cause of complaint from the Glee Club contributed to inaugurate its opening by the present facility, while its assistance to the Hospital was merely in combination with the Private Theatricals, which were the principal part of the Club's.

There are many motives which may have influenced the Club in declining the invitation to sing for the Library, and doubtless if we were good ones, as the majority of the members are also subscribers to the Library, and it shows great want of taste not to allow the Club the right to refuse a public performance, without being termed selfish and ungenerous.

A Member who voted in favour of giving a concert for the Library.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

The "Reforma" states that as soon as Medina crossed to the north of Rio Negro, Flores avoided an encounter, by crossing the same river southwards, 100 miles lower. Turcos and Quinteros, marching in the direction of Paysandu, as if hoping to surprise the capital. Gen. Lucas Moreno, however, at the head of 1,400 men, met Flores on the marched on Paysandu, and was disagreeably repulsed by the garrison. Flores then broke up his army—small to some 800 men—into small bands, which now are dispersed throughout the various departments. Canelones is said to be in a state of revolt, and General Mora has crossed the river Uruguay with 2,000 men.

ANOTHER INVASION.

Yesterday town was thrown into a state when by the rumour of another invasion. The story ran through the city like wildfire—Urquiza had invaded the Banda Oriental. Queues went up four dollars in an instant. The minister of War was said to have been seen running along the street in the direction of the Captaincy of the Port.

The President of the Oriental Republic Club had sent out despatches for an instantaneous pow wow. It was perfectly ludicrous to hear the stories which were circulated. Many feared that Urquiza would muddle a requirement, but were disappointed. The truth of the story is their Urquizan's own, being something of the Porteno kind, though he certainly did better than follow Don Venancio's example. Things were very dull in Puerta Bica, and a good deal of fun going on across the river; so, in order that everything should be right and proper, he sent to his resigned to assume the sash, and then to his friend Mitre for the purpose of amusing himself, took two twenty followers, a few guns, and went right off to Montevideo. A lot of fellows who work more with the sword than the pen immediately followed the illustrious Mitre—many say that there are others 600 strong—one thing seems certain, that all Entre Rinno gauchos who wish for good wages and a little excitement have hied to the Oriental shores, who are to be found in every part of Entre Rios.

We hope to hear the Entre-Rinno Government for this scandalous violation of all law and tolerating such a fact explain to be given, when in Buenos Ayres, and if no satisfactory note, and vessels have been enacted?

We are readers know that at this moment there are Rinnos citizens in Montevideo, and Montevideo citizens in provinces, enlisting men? Surely we are terribly informed, is a fact.

We say this, in the name of all that is dear to the country, as what are we going to coup? If a set of infamous revolutionary blackguards are to be encouraged, by such a flagrant breach of law, to go pillaging through Entre Rios and the other provinces, why we have seen nothing for the last eighteen months, and the Republic has got to expend, before another six months is about have Montevideo and Buenos Ayres out of every grade. We are not lawyers, but we do from the opinion that exports of another civil war endures is only one plank and that is the port town Puerta Gonzalez. Let us not down Mitre to Urquiza put such ridiculous. To about those very foreigner in the country will back his notes.

The arrival of the Kepler in Montevideo was known on the Bolsa, and it was said that one of the most eminent English houses in town had received duplicates by her of their letters, per French mail. This would go to show that the Kepler must have made a splendid passage, having left England subsequent to the French steamer

We are happy to learn that the agents of this steamer have secured from Government the usual privileges as a mail packet

The invasion of Urquiza's son was talked of on the Bolsa as also the black Oriental Col. nel Chapaco, who, it is said, is in Paraná, enlisting gauchos for the Chinese to fight Chinese.

The mails from Rosario, per Esmeralda, serve to confirm the news we published yesterday, concerning the Election. Mercantile luck on this disgust at this never-ending struggle, which each day is assuming a different phase
